

Camtek invites you to work in a cutting-edge technology environment and be part of a market leader – join us and nurture your career. Camtek helps deliver defect-free products by providing first-class, state-of-the-art inspection and metrology systems to the Semiconductor industry. Whether it is your mobile device, laptop or car we are a crucial part of the manufacturing ensuring the most stringent reliability standards.

C# SW Developer

Description:

- Participant in development of multidisciplinary project end to end full stack
- The development shall be mostly in C# and C++
- Lead development tasks through all stages – gathering requirements, planning, performing DRs and full implementation.
- Design and implement various features on a wide range of platforms.
- Work closely with System and HW engineers, SW developers, QA and many more.
- Perform design and code reviews and system integrations.
- Constant collaboration and knowledge sharing with the SW team.

Requirements

- BSc Degree or equivalent in Software Engineering / Computer Science
- At least 3+ years Experience in Win environment, specifically C# - required
- Experience in C++ - Big advantage
- Experience in Com technologies – An advantage
- WPF experience- An advantage
- Experience working on multidisciplinary products – An advantage